So i have a 1995 yamaha fzr 1000 exup and i am just about to go through with an oil/filter change. The bike has about 43,000 miles on it so i figured i should go through and do all of the regular maitnence seeing as how i just bought the bike. So i picked up 10w40 vavoline max life synthetic oil which is made for higher mileage cars so i figured it would work the same on my bike.
