The dreadnought was the predominant type of battleship in the early 20th century. The first of its kind, the Royal Navy's HMS Dreadnought, made such a strong impression on people's minds when launched in 1906 that similar battleships built subsequently were referred to generically as "dreadnoughts", and earlier battleships became known as "pre-dreadnoughts".

1. Kuznets (1973) identified six characteristics defining modern economic growth. The other four were rapid population growth, structural transformation (primarily urbanisation and the shift from agriculture to manufacturing and then to services), changes in ideology (e.g. secularisation), the increased global reach of developed countries (part of what is now referred to as globalisation), and ...

Chapter A-5 What is a situation (body, language, .....)? It is time to ask: What are situations? Why do they imply further steps? What is the link between situations, the body, and language, such that words come to us to say in situations? And, how do just the right words come — the ones that might make the situational difference we need?. What is a situation?
